Sport Communication - Print

Description of Program

The Sport Communication Program reflects the widening opportunities that exist in this field. An increasing amount of sport related activity is occurring in television, radio, Internet, and print communication. The sport communication emphasis is an interdisciplinary program that provides a strong background in sport with either a broadcast or print specialization.

With the cooperation of the Department of Telecommunications and the School of Journalism, the Department of Kinesiology offers undergraduate programs in sport communication—broadcast and print, leading to the Bachelor of Science in Kinesiology degree. The sport communication-broadcast emphasis concentrates on courses in telecommunications media, such as television, radio, and other electronic communications technologies. Additionally, both specialization areas offer instruction in new media technology, such as blogging, podcasting, and on-line communications.

Special Opportunities

Direct experience in the area of sport communication is an important component of this undergraduate major. Through practica, internships, and/or field experiences, students have the opportunity to work and train in a variety of sport and communication related fields. Examples of local, nearby internship opportunities include the Colts, Indiana Pacers and Fever, the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, the Natatorium, AAA baseball at Victory Field, the NCAA Headquarters, and four sport National Governing Bodies.

Specialized advising is provided to assist students with degree planning that allows them to tailor their degree to meet long-term goals. Students are required to meet with an academic advisor at least twice a year.

Career resources are provided through the expertise of a career specialist to assist students in career planning, resume, and cover letter preparation, and skill development for the interview process. In addition the Career Center contains a variety of up-to-date and highly accessible resources designed to facilitate long-range decision making and future employment considerations.

Careers

Students completing the Bachelor of Science in Kinesiology with a specialization in sport communication are prepared for entry-level positions in radio, television, athletic or sports information, sports journalism, public and/or community relations, and promotions. Students may also find employment with semiprofessional and professional sports teams in the area of media relations. Graduates are knowledgeable in a variety of sport communication applications and suited to diverse employment opportunities.
